

F.I. GOLDHABER

P.O. Box 80766 ♦ Portland, OR 97280 ♦ (503) 933-8456 ♦ fi@goldhaber.net

F.I. Goldhaber's second poetry collection, Pairs of Poems was ranked number three in the Preditors & Editors readers poll for poems. A professional writer for more than a quarter century, she was honored with a National Woman of Achievement Award by Women in Management and has won a number of awards for her fiction and poetry.

She began her career as a reporter and editor at newspapers in three states, then worked as business writer, editor, and marketing communications consultant for corporate, government, and not-for-profit entities. Currently, she is book designer and project manager for Publish Your Words author services, which provides professional book design and layout services, high quality cover design, print and electronic book formatting, web development and design, and related services to authors on a work-for-hire, à la carte, flat-fee basis. <http://www.publishyourwords.com>

F.I. has had short stories, novelettes, poems, news stories, feature articles, essays, editorial columns, and reviews published in magazines, e-zines, newspapers, calendars, and anthologies as well as three erotica novels published under another name.

A graduate of the University of Washington, F.I. lives in Portland, Oregon with her husband and writing partner, Joel Goldhaber. She has judged the PNWA Literary Contest and the EPIE Awards (as well as erotica writing competitions), reads to elementary-school children as a SMART volunteer, and was active in Lions Clubs International serving as an Eye Courier and as president of two clubs.

Her website is <http://goldhaber.net/> and you can find her on Facebook <http://www.facebook.com/goldhaber> and Twitter http://twitter.com/IJ_Daltson